Prospective business men of Empress, the new divisional point on the Bassano-Swift Current line of the C.P.R., got ahead of the real estate speculators the other day. They allowed the speculators to buy up the lots on Centre street, where the business section was supposed to be, and then quietly bought on Second street, where they had agreed among themselves to establish the business section. The result is that the sharks have some hard-to-sell lots on their hands.

NOTICE TO FARMERS—R. Le-Blanc wishes to announce that he has installed a steam plant and chopper where the Hiebert lumber yard was, opposite Bean's office and is now prepared to chop every day of the week. Also necessary scale to drive on with load. Price 8c per 100 lbs. c

Government As- sistance to Timo- thy Growers

A striking example of the necessity of improvements in the methods of cleaning Timothy seed can be seen in the following figures which are published by the Dominion Seed Laboratory, Calgary, where a number of samples were tested for farmers and merchants.

The samples in almost every case were of exceptionally fine quality and had they been properly cleaned would rank amongst the first on the market.

The suitability of many parts of Alberta and British Columbia for growing timothy for seed is unquestionable
and it is the intention of the Government, through the Seed Branch to assist farmers in their methods of handling and marketing their seed.

Last year the Dominion Seed Laboratory at Calgary examined 317 samples of Timothy of which 155 were received from farmers, 135 of these came from Alberta, 11 from British Columbia, 6 from Manitoba, and 1
from the United States.

Of 317 samples received 276 were examined for weed seeds and graded
as follows:

Extra No. 1.—7; No. 1—23; No.
2—99; No. 3—54; Rejected 95.

Samples containing more than 80
noxious weed seeds, or a total of over 400 of all kinds of weed seeds per ounce are rejected, and are prohibited from sale, under section 9 of the "Seed Control Act."

Lamb's quarters is by far the most prevalent weed seed found in Western grown timothy, occurring in 204 of the samples. Rough cinquefoil is next, being found in 138 samples. Other common weed seeds are worm-seed mustard, guetian, yarrow, blue-eyed grass, pepper grass, tower mustard,
evening primrose, western false flax,
ball mustard, curled dock, and catch fly. Many of these weed seeds could be easily removed from Timothy by an ordinary fanning mill, fitted with the proper sieves.

Farmers having timothy are invited to send samples to the Seed Laboratory, Calgary for grading, or to receive information as to the proper sieves to be used for cleaning their particular seed.

Sample bags in which seed may be sent, as well as further particulars in regard to taking and sending samples may be had by sending a request to the above address.

Twenty-five samples of seed will be tested free of charge for any one party,
after that 25c a sample is charged.

Don't waste your money buying Liniment is cheaper and better. Dampen a piece of flannel with it and bind it over the affected parts and it will relieve the pain and soreness. For sale by

Organizing New Municipalities

Since the amendment to the rural municipalities act providing that local improvement districts may be organized into rural municipalities on a petition of the electors instead of a vote of the people being necessary, the organization of rural municipalities is proceeding rapidly. It is only three weeks ago that the rural municipalities act amendments were assented to, but seven new rural municipalities have already been formed and other petitions have been forwarded to the department of municipalities.

Among the new municipalities already formed are Rosebud No. 280, near Carstairs; Watrou, 281, west of Rosebud; Westerdale, No. 311, west of Didsbury; Lake View, north of Viking. Others which have not yet been named are numbered 452, south of Vermillion, 482, north of Vermillion,
and 334 at Coronation.

Tullerton, the main divisional point
west of Edmonton on the C.N.R. is arranging for organization as a village municipality.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood.
Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased
them, and three bottles cured them,"
says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers.

ROD and GUN

ROD AND GUN IN CANADA for November (Publisher W. J. Taylor, Ltd., Woodstock, Ont.), sustains its reputation as the leading Canadian magazine devoted to the interests of sportsmen. Big game hunting in British Columbia is described in several well written and illustrated articles;
"A Labrador Room" is descriptive of a Labrador fishing village; "My Visit to an Alberta Trapper," details a successful day on the trap line; "How to Keep Game from Spoiling" contains some valuable information for the hunter of big and small game; "When Riley Tied Hanlan" is by way of variety and is reminiscent of the famous Barrie Regatta when all the world's big scullers had a try-out for the Championship. The regular departments are well maintained.

How Editors Get Rich

After a great deal of worry and study
we have at last figured out how so many country editors get rich. Here is the secret of their success. There is a child born in the neighborhood.
The attending physician gets $10. The editor gives the loud-lunged youngster a great send-off and gets $5. It is christened, and the minister gets $5 and the editor gets $50. It grows and marries. The editor publishes another long-winded flowery article and tells a dozen lies about the "beautiful and accomplished bride." The minister gets $10 and a piece of cake.
The editor gets $500 and a request to carry groom's subscription account another year. In course of time she dies. The doctor gets from $5 to $100, the minister gets from $5 to $100, the editor publishes a notice of death and an obituary two columns long, lodge resolutions, a lot of poetry and a card of thanks and gets $5,000. No wonder so many country editors get rich.—
The Western Editor.

To Celebrate One Hundred Years Peace

Didsbury has been invited to assist with the celebration of 100 years of peace between Great Britain and the United States. The invitation takes the form of a letter addressed to the mayor of this town, requesting his attendance at an organization meeting to be held in Calgary on the evening of November 20th at 8.15 o'clock, when the election of a permanent committee to direct the peace celebration arrangements will come before the various delegates.

Christmas Eve, 1914, will witness exactly 100 years of peace between this country and the neighboring republic. With one of the longest border lines separating the two nations, and with many rival industries, the completion of 100 years of peace between these two countries calls for some fitting celebration. The occasion will be marked in a practical manner in many centres in Great Britain, the United States and Canada,
and in order that Southern Alberta
may not be behind in this celebration, it is proposed to organize at once for the work, and for that reason the meeting has been called in Calgary on the 20th.

Michener to Suc- ceed Bulyea

The News-Telegram, a conservative newspaper, publishes a story to the effect that E. Michener, provincialeader of the Opposition, is to be appointed Lieutenant-Governor of the province with the retirement of Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea, and that T.
M. Tweedie, the member for Centre
Calgary, is to succeed to the Conservative leadership.

"It is a pleasure to tell you that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best cough medicine I have ever used," writes Mrs.
Hugh Campbell, of Lavonia, Ga. I have used it with all my children and the results have been highly satisfactory." For sale by all dealers.

Woman Jumps From Moving Train

Charged with the murder of her baby and with murderously assaulting her husband, Mrs. Flynn of Throne, Alberta, was taken to the Calgary
mounted police barracks Thursday.
The woman created a sensation on the C.P.R. train near Clive Thursday morning when she was being taken to the city by the mounted police. She jumped through a washroom window
while the train was going at full speed, despite the fact that a woman attendant seized her skirt and attempted to restrain her.

The train went half a mile before it could be stopped. The woman was found lying where she had jumped from the window, dazed, but only slightly injured. Outside of a few scratches on her face and some minor bruises, she was unhurt.

The woman is evidently irresponsible mentally, and a strict watch is being kept over her at the police barracks.

You'd better wash those cups your self, Jane, she said. I don't see any sense anyhow in getting out the best china unless there's real company. Besides, I'm going to talk business.

When the door had closed behind her, Miss Letitia listened for a moment, got up suddenly and, crossing the room with amazing swiftness for her years, pounced on the knob and threw it open again. But the passage was empty; Miss Jane's slim little figure was disappearing into the kitchen.

I didn't want to see you about the will, Mr. Knox, the older sister began. The will can wait. I ain't going to die just yet—not if I know anything. But although I think you'd look a heap better and more responsible if you wore some hair on your face, still in most things I think you're a man of sense. And you're not too young. That's why I didn't send for Harry Wardrop. He's too young.

I winced at that. Miss Letitia leaned forward and put her bony hand on my knee.

I've been robbed, she announced in a half whisper.

Indeed! I said, properly thunderstruck. I had always believed that only the use of the fourth dimension in space would enable any one not desirous to gain access to the Maitland house.

Not the pearls? I asked.

She answered my question with another.

When you had those pearls appraised for me at the jeweler's last year, how many were there?

Not quite a hundred I think—yes ninety-eight.

Exactly, she corroborated, in triumph. They belonged to my mother, Margery's mother got some of them. That's a good many years ago, young man. They are worth more than they were then—a great deal more.

SCALES, DANDRUFF
AND ITCHING

Head so Itchy Could Hardly Stand It. Dandruff Showed on Coat Collar. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in One Month.

223 Elizabeth St., Montreal, Que.—"Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me permanently from dandruff and scalp itch that I was suffering with since over a year. I had an inflammation of the lungs and a very strong fever. When I recovered, my head was covered with scales and dandruff, and it was so itchy I could hardly stand it. The dandruff showed on my coat collar. I had used various medicines without relief. I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and decided to try them, and I am very glad of it, because I am perfectly cured. I used two boxes of Cuticura Soap and Ointment with the Cuticura Soap. It took one month to cure me. I take pleasure in recommending Cuticura Soap and Ointment to anyone who is suffering with scalp or skin diseases." (Signed) Hector Ferras, Dec. 30, 1911.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Prevent falling hair, remove crusts and scales, and allay itching and irritation of the scalp, frequent shampoos with Cuticura Soap, assisted by occasional dressings with Cuticura Ointment, afford the speediest and most economical treatment. They assist in promoting the growth and beauty of the hair by removing those conditions which tend to make it dry, thin, and lifeless, often leading to premature grayness and loss of hair. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 23-p. Skin Book. Address post card Potter Drug & Chem. Twenty-two thousand dollars, I repeated. You remember, Miss Letitia, that I protested vigorously at the time against your keeping them in the house.

Miss Letitia ignored this, but before she went on she repeated again her catlike pouncing at the door, only to find the hall empty as before.

Yesterday morning, she said gravely, I got down the box—they have always been kept in the small safe in the top of my closet. When Jane found a picture of my niece, Margery Fleming, in Harry's room I thought it likely there was some truth in the gossip Jane heard about the two; and if there was going to be a wedding, why, the pearls were to go to Margery anyhow. But I found the door of the safe unlocked and a little bit open, and ten of the pearls were gone. Gone! I echoed. If ten, why not the whole ninety-eight?

How do I know? she replied with asperity. That's what I keep a lawyer for.

But you need a detective, I cried. I will not have the police, she persisted inflexibly. They will come around asking impertinent questions and telling the newspapers that a foolish old woman had got what she deserved.

Then you are going to send them to a bank?

You have less sense than I thought, she snapped. I am going to leave them where they are and watch. Whoever took the ten will be back for more, mark my words.

I don't advise it, I said decidedly. Stuff and nonsense! the old lady said, with spirit.

Then—what do you want me to do? I asked. Have Bella arrested and I'll trunk-searched.

Her trunk! she said scornfully. I turned it inside out this morning. I want you to stay here for three or four days. When I catch the thief I want my lawyers right by.

It ended by my consenting, of course. Miss Letitia was seldom refused. Little Miss Jane lighted me to the door of the guest room. Her thin gray curls bobbed as she examined the water pitcher, saw to the towels and felt the bed linen for dampness. At the door she turned around timidly.

Has—anything happened to disturb my sister? she asked. She has been almost irritable all day.

She is worried about her colored craphans, I evaded. She does not approve of fireworks for them on the Fourth of July.

I put out the light and sat down near the window, with my cigar and my thoughts. I had finished my second cigar. There was a sound of fumbling at one of the shutters below. With Miss Letitia's story of the pearls fresh in my mind I felt at once that the thief, finding his ten a prize, had come back for more.

I found on the mantel a heavy brass candlestick, and with it in my hand I stepped into the gloom of the hallway and felt my way down the stairs. I had kicked off my shoes, a fact I regretted later. I went into the library, which was beneath my room, but the sounds at the window had ceased. I thought I heard steps on the walk going toward the front of the house. I wheeled quickly and started for the door when something struck me a terrific blow on the nose. I reeled back and sat down, dizzy and shocked. It was only when no second blow followed the first that I realized what had occurred.

With my two hands out before me in the darkness I had groped, one hand on either side of the open door, which of course, I had struck violently with my nose. My candlestick had rolled under the table, and after crawling around on my hands and knees I found it. For all her boasted watchfulness Miss Letitia must have been asleep.

I got back into the dining room. Some one was fumbling at the shutters there, and as I looked they swung open. It was so dark outside with the trees and the distance from the street that only the creaking of the shutters told it had opened. I stood in the middle of the room, with one hand firmly clutching my candlestick. But the window refused to move.

The burglar seemed to have no proper tools. He got something under the eash, but it snapped, and through the heavy plate glass I could hear him swearing. Then he abruptly left the window and made for the front of the house.

I blundered in the same direction, my unshod feet striking on projecting furniture and causing me agonies even throughout my excitement. When I reached the front door, however I was amazed to find it unlocked, and standing per perhaps an inch. I stopped uncertainly. I was in a peculiar position. Not even the most prudent admirers of antique brass candle sticks endorse them as weapons of offense or defense. But there seeming to be nothing else to do, I opened the door quietly and stepped out into the night.

The next instant I was flung heavily to the porch floor. I am not a small man by any means, but under the fury of that onslaught I was a child. It was a porch chair, I think, that knocked me senseless. I know I folded up like a jackknife, and that was all I did know for a few minutes.

When I came to I was lying where I had fallen, and a candle was burning beside me on the porch floor. It took me a minute to remember, and another minute to realize that I was looking into the barrel of a revolver. It occurred to me that I had never seen a more villainous face than that of the man who held it—which shows

Matrimony Declining in Scotland

Marriages registered in Scotland during 1910 numbered 30,866; 744 more than were registered during the previous year, but 1,016 fewer than the average number registered during the preceding five years, and 1,111 fewer than the average number during the preceding 10 years. The marriage rate of the year is 6.26; it is .09 above that of the previous year, but is .42 less than the mean of marriage rates of the preceding five years and .62 less than the mean of the rates of the preceding ten years.

Obeyed Orders

I thought I told you not to cut your corns with my razor! thundered the exasperated husband who was trying to lose a few of his whiskers.

Ar I haven't since you told me you were so particular with your old butcher knife, replied the wife sweetly.

Well, it feels that way.

I did open a can of tomatoes with it. Would that hurt it any? You didn't say I wasn't to do that.

It had been raining for twenty-four hours, and the ground was more like a lake than a football field; but the referee could not see his way to postpone the match.

Surely you aren't going to make us play in this? asked the visiting captain.

Of course you must play, declared the man with the whistle. Now, don't hang about. You've won the toss. Which end are you taking?

Oh, well, came the reply, with a sigh of resignation, I reckon we'd better kick with the tide.

A FOOD DRINK

Which Brings Daily Enjoyment

A lady doctor writes: "Though busy hourly with my own affairs, I will not deny myself the pleasure of taking a few minutes to tell of my enjoyment daily obtained from my morning cup of Postum. It is a food beverage, not an irritant like coffee."

"I began to use Postum 8 years ago, not because I wanted to, but because coffee, which I dearly loved, made my nights long, weary periods to be dreaded, and unfitting me for business during the day."

"Tea is just as injurious as coffee, because the drug, caffeine, is found in both tea and coffee."

"On advice of a friend, I first tried Postum, making it carefully as suggested on the package. As I had always used 'cream and no sugar,' I mixed my Postum so. It looked good, was clear and fragrant, and it was a pleasure to see the cream color it as my Kentucky friend wanted her coffee to look—like a new saddle."

"Then I tasted it critically, for I had tried many 'substitutes' for coffee. I was pleased, yes, satisfied with my Postum in taste and effect, and am yet, being a constant user of it all these years, I continually assure my friends and acquaintances that they will like it in place of coffee, and receive benefit from its use. I have gained weight, can sleep and am not nervous."

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Write for the little book, "The Road to Wellville." Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. Grocers sell both kinds.

"There's a reason" for Postum.

Safe Bet

The colonel remonstrated with his subaltern time after time, but all in vain. The latter was a born, incurable gambler. One day, however, just about the time when he was transferred, his old colonel met the new one and gave the latter a word of warning. Only two days after he had joined his new regiment the young officer accused his new colonel of suffering from corns.

My dear young fellow, I've never had a corn in my life.

I'll bet you five dollars you've got one on each foot now.

Done, said the colonel, and he took off his boots. No corns could be found, and the colonel got his money.

Hence when the two colonels met the young man's old commander was told of all that had happened.

Good heavens! cried the old warrior. And he bet me ten pounds he would have your feet bare before he had been in your regiment a week.

A Scottish minister was called in to see a man who was extremely ill. After finishing his visit, as he was leaving the house, he said to the man's wife: My good woman, do you not go to any church at all?

Oh, yes, sir; we gang to the Barony kirk.

Then why in the world did you send for me? Why didn't you send for Dr. MacLeod?

Na, na, sir, 'deed, no; we wadna risk him. Do ye no ken it's a contagious case of typhus?

Westy Hogan's Draws Crowd of Shooters to Seaside Resort

Two hundred and eight trap shooters went to Atlantic City, N.J., this year to compete in the always popular Westy Hogan's Tournament. For the first time a Westy Hogan's Handicap event was scheduled—this to be the premier number on the week's program. L. W. Colquitt went over from East Orange, N.J., and made the mad-dog winning with 93 out of a possible 100 in the handicap and 17 out of a possible 20 in the shootoff, which he contested with Harry Eyre, a Pennsylvanian, who dropped one bird more than Mr. Colquitt in the deciding string. Charles Newcomb, the noted Philadelphia amateur, won high amateur average for the meet, breaking 483 out of a possible 500, shooting Remington-UMC shells as did the handicap contenders mentioned. In attendance, the 'Westy's' exceeded the record of some of the minor Interstate Handicaps, this year, and set a high standard for next year's meet.

Muriel, said the old gentleman sharply, that young man you had in the parlor last night is dull of comprehension. All I had to do was cough when the other chaps remained too late, and they would take the hint and depart. Did this one say anything when I coughed last night?

Yes, replied the beautiful daughter. He said the next time he called he was going to bring you some cough drops.

Stopping His Talk

A man carrying a small handbag such as commercials use entered a barber's shop and proceeded to take various things out of the bag.

I don't think I want anything today, said the barber.

The other showed him a bottle. This is very fine bay rum, he said. Possibly, said the barber; but I have got plenty.

Shaving soap? said the other, producing a packet.

No, thanks, replied the barber. Face powder? said the caller, producing another packet.

No; it no good, said the barber. I must get rid of my present stock first.

Apparently undaunted, the caller produced various other things—a bottle of hair tonic, a pot of pomade, a tube of face cream, and so on.

No, no, no! said the barber, desparately. I tell you I don't want any of them.

I know you don't was the calm reply. Then why do you ask me to buy them? demanded the barber.

I didn't ask you to buy them, declared the other. I only came in to have my hair cut, but I wanted to show you before I started that I've got all the toilet articles I want.

Art Tamed the Tigers

A privileged few may have seen the interesting sight of a sculptor making his studies and models from life for the statues of the two tigers which guard the entrance to Nassau hall at Princeton. The studies were made for the most part in the animal houses near the Arsenal in Central park. At first considerable prodding by the keepers was necessary to induce the zoological samples to come forward when the sculptor wanted them. After a time, however—this is upon the sculptor's solemn word—the beasts got so that when they saw him set up his stand they came forward of their own accord and lay crouched, as he wished. The tigers had learned to pose.

Cigar or Coconut?

The occupants of the railway carriage were listening with joyful interest to the tales of the young man in the corner. He had been all over the world several times, apparently and his adventures had been marvelous.

Coolness and courage is the thing, he was saying. Take this case. We were in Central Africa, traveling among cannibal tribes. One evening when we camped, I had strolled off while my men prepared supper, when suddenly above a rock in front of me I saw the heads of three natives who were watching me. What was I to do? My gun was at the camp. To turn back meant having spears through me. In a moment I decided. Close by were some stones. Pretending I didn't see the niggers, I bent down as if to examine the stones, then, quick as lightning, I picked up three of them and flung them with all my force at their heads. Every one found its mark, and the three natives dropped like sheep. I always take a good aim, and it served me well then.

Then the red-faced man opposite, who had been listening carefully, chimed in: And what did you get? A cigar or a coconut?

Was Too Sore and Lame to Work Quickly Cured by Nerviline

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains, and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. J. E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P.O. "I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right foreleg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore, and swollen. I applied Nerviline, and it worked like a charm; in fact, that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline. "We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years, and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment."

OLD ENGLISH KITCHENS

Where Not One but Two or Three Oxen Might be Roasted

The kitchen of olden times seem to have been of extraordinary size, judging from the investigations made by an English historical society. At Hurstmonceux for example, there was a kitchen twenty-eight feet high, with three huge fireplaces and a bake-house with an oven fourteen feet in diameter.

There is an old Welsh kitchen near Llandudno, dating from the fifteenth century, which has many primitive culinary contrivances, now obsolete or superseded by modern devices. Among these curious old devices may be mentioned a meatjack with a flywheel, a steel toasting stand and a fan bellows.

At Battle abbey there is a curious old kitchen containing much of interest to the antiquary, and a kitchen at St. Mary's hall, Coventry, is remarkable for the famous 'knives' post to which, it appears, refractory scullions were temporarily attached by way of punishment.

There is a medieval kitchen at Westminster abbey, although little remains by which to identify it aside from the rubble flooring, the buttery hatch and an adjoining cellar. Hampton Court palace shows its great kitchen with vaulted roof and sets of antlers on its walls.

Englishmen of other days, fully recognized the advantages of a large kitchen. There is extant an order, dated April 19, 1206, wherein Hugh de Nevill is commanded to have the king's kitchen at Clarendon roofed with shingles and to cause two new kitchens to be erected, one at Marlborough and the other at Ludgershall, to which 'to dress' the royal dinners. In this order it is stated that it is particularly directed that each kitchen shall be provided with a furnace sufficiently large to roast two or three oxen.

The Reason

A well known idiot named Jamie Frazer surprised people sometimes by his replies. The members of one parish had for some time distressed the minister by their habit of sleeping in church. He had often endeavored to impress them with a sense of the impropriety of such conduct, and one day when Jamie was sitting in the front gallery wide awake when many were slumbering round him the clergyman endeavored to arouse the attention of his hearers by stating the fact, saying: You see even Jamie Frazer, the idiot, does not fall asleep, as so many of you are doing. Jamie, not liking perhaps to be designated, coolly replied: And if I hadn't been an idiot I would have been sleeping too.

You promise nothing—you sign nothing—you obligate yourself to us in no way whatever. We accept your mere word.

Don't you now believe that Rezall Orderlies are worthy of a trial? Could any offer be more fair?

The Women's Institute

A very successful meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Thursday, November 13th, at the home of Mrs. L. E. Smith, two miles north of town. About twenty five ladies were present. Mrs. Chas. Deadrick, who was speaker for the afternoon, deserves special merit for her most excellent paper, on "A Helping Hand." The subject was a broad one and not one part of it was neglected by the speaker and it was enjoyed and appreciated by all present. Music was furnished by Mrs. Sol. Wiegand and Miss Mona Wilson.

At the close of the meeting a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

In all, it was a very delightful afternoon and all are looking forward to the meetings of the coming year.

Alberta Violations of the Seed Control Act

The following firms in Alberta have been convicted of breacher of the Dominion Seed Control Act:

Henry Wilson, Edmonton; J. R. Hamilton & Son, Edmonton; J. B. Griffith, Stettler; J. Gilliland & Bro. Stettler; R. A. Webster, Cochrane.

All the above firms were convicted of selling grain containing noxious weed seeds without indicating the presence of the same as required by Section 6 of the Seed Control Act. In addition J. Gilliland and Bro. were convicted of selling Timothy seed containing more weed seed than allowed under Section 9 of the Act.

It is the intention of the Dominion Department of Agriculture to strictly enforce the provisions of the Seed Control Act throughout the west, and all persons handling seed should see to it that their seed is sold in accordance with the Act.

A well equipped Seed Laboratory is at the service of all who desire to have seed tested. Copies of the Act and information as to the same may be obtained from the Dominion Seed Branch, Calgary.
